Azzedine Alaïa

28 September 2013- 26 January 2014

After closing due to extensive renovations, the Palais Galliera reopened to the public once more during Paris Fashion Week. To commemorate the occasion, the famed fashion museum honored couturier Azzedine Alaïa by showcasing the very first Paris retrospective dedicated to the master designer's seductive body of work.

The exhibition, which is simply titled 'Alaïa,' was curated by Olivier Saillard, the director of the Galliera Museum, and was presented in the Palais's newly renovated galleries along with the Matisse Room at the Musée d'Art moderne de la Ville de Paris. Over 30 years of Alaïa's legendary work was represented by a selection of 70 remarkable dresses in a scenography created by French designer Martin Szekely, while the Matisse Room will showcase art near and dear to the creator's heart.

Alaïa debuted his first signature collection in 1979 after being encouraged to do so by his friend Thierry Mugler. Even his earliest work detailed the success that was to come with an immense attention for detail being made to the use of leather, jersey and the incorporation of stretch fabrics. Unlike most couturiers, Alaïa was capable of creating a garment from start to finish: beginning with a pattern, before moving onto putting cloth to a form and then cutting and sewing the fabric to his will.

Poised to be the fashion fête of the year, the exhibition opened on September 28 in Paris and is slated to run through January 26, 2014.

BROADWAY & BEYOND
Celebrating Theatre & Dance

Liza Minelli, Ann Margret

Career Transition For Dancers' 28th Anniversary Jubilee was October 8th at New York City Center. The dance event of the season: ROLEX presents BROADWAY & BEYOND! Celebrating Theatre & Dance, was followed by a post-performance 'Supper with the Stars,' dancing and a live auction at The Grand Ballroom at the Hilton.

The annual Rolex Dance Award was given to super-star Ann-Margret (two-time Academy Award Nominee, 5 Golden Globes, Emmy Award winner, Grammy Nominee). Liza Minnelli, the multi award winner (Tonys, Oscar, Grammy, Golden Globe, Emmy), and the recipient of the 2012 Rolex Dance Award presented the award to Ann-Margret. The Outstanding Contributions to the World of Dance Awards were given to Ann Van Ness and Harlequin Floors.

Broadway is an American form of entertainment. BROADWAY & BEYOND! brought to life the magic of theatre, and emphasized the universal scope of dance in pop culture. The event opened with a new song by Lloyd G. Miller (son of prima ballerina Cynthia Gregory). There were performances to "Big Noise From Winnetka;" "Begin The Beguine;" "On The Town;" "Annie;" "A Chorus Line;" "Damn Yankees;" a tribute to Broadway choreographer Danny Daniels ("Tap Dance Kid"). Performing were Kelly Bishop, Lynn Cohen, Dulé Hill, Andrea McArdle, Christiane Noll, Rosie O'Donnell, Orfeh, Noah Racey, Randy Skinner, Jason Samuels Smith, Jimmy Tate and many others.

The 28th Anniversary Chairs were Anka K. Palitz, and Susan & Stewart Wicht. Career Transition for Dancers received a special Tony as it is the only nonprofit organization in the USA devoted to helping all professional dancers transition when their brief dance career ends, at the average age of 34. Career Transition for Dancers provides emotional and career counseling, and scholarships for education, entrepreneurial endeavors and certification programs.

For nearly two decades, General H. Norman Schwarzkopf has dedicated himself to the mission of Camp Boggy Creek. In honor of his commitment, Camp Boggy Creek have formed The Schwarzkopf Society to recognize those donors who embrace the General's spirit of philanthropy and his steadfast commitment to our campers.

Camp Boggy Creek is specifically designed for children with chronic or life threatening illnesses and allows them to safely enjoy the activities of a "traditional" camp. Between early morning swims and evening campfires, children whose lives have been a series of medical procedures and hospital stays are transformed into just "kids." They have a chance to be with others coping with the same illness or condition and realize that they are not alone.

The prescription for the day is fun, fun, fun! Laughter, giggles, friendships and excitement abound on the 232 acres of tall pines, majestic oaks and nature trails. Campers are empowered to do things they never dreamed they could do. They are infused with a spirit of accomplishment at every turn and allowed to forget that "they have what they have." For many of them it is the first time they've felt "normal" since their diagnosis. Programs at Camp Boggy Creek include week long summer sessions as well as family retreat weekends and each includes full medical coverage with on site professionals in the illness specialty being served.

During each of our summer sessions, up to 150 children with like illnesses arrive for a week of fun, adventure and independence.

The Camp Boggy Creek experience is more than a fun-filled getaway. It helps children and their families to better cope with the day-to-day challenges they face in dealing with serious illness. www.boggycreek.org

Interview by Maya Johnson

Maya Johnson, Hiroaki Edward Uchiyama

Why did you choose to become a chef?

I grew up in a kitchen ever since I was a boy. My dad had a French restaurant in Montreal. I would help out every weekend. I love eating and discovering new taste. So, it was obvious to follow my dad's steps.

What do you do to stay educated about new trends?

I like to eat out and travel all around the world.

Tell me about your accomplishments that you are most proud of.

When I came to France 10 years ago, I was supposed to stay here for three months. I met the right people and was given a great chance.

I started as a stagiaire in a small restaurant, and now I'm a chef in a 5 star hotel. I would like to thank everybody I've met during this time.

What are the best and worst kitchen experiences you have encountered during your career?

One of my best and worst experiences was when I was working the night shift at the George V hotel. I received a phone call from Room Service to make Penne Tomato for Roger Federer, the tennis player. He was in a Tournament in Bercy the next day. I made him a double portion of pasta to give him enough strength for his big game. I was so happy to meet him that night. Unfortunately, he lost the match the next day and told me he ate too much the other night.

For the Organization, founded in 1948 by Prince Louis II, the gala, one of the most prestigious in the world, is an opportunity to thank volunteers for their generosity. It is also during the course of the evening, that a large part of the funds is collected in the form of donations or legacies. Supported and guided by the convictions of H.S.H. Prince Albert II, President of the organisation, the Monaco Red Cross has continued to expand its action throughout the world and has responded to multiple calls from the International Red Cross for a global annual budget of €1,300,000. On the national level, in the Principality of Monaco and surrounding area, social actions represented an expenditure to the order of €1,200,000.

For the prestigious Galas latest edition and as part of the 150th anniversary celebrations of the Société des Bains de Mer, the group New Scat will welcome guests. Italian band NeroCaffe' and the Sporting Orchestra featuring Ty Stephens will musically accompany dinner, before Italian superstar Eros Ramazzotti will take his place centre stage. The Roman singer, who has sold over 55 million albums in 30 years of career, will perform an anthology of his greatest hits and reveal titles from his twelfth album "Noi".

The event program will conclude with illustrious DJ Bob Sinclar at the turntables.

Sandrine Quétier and American host China Moses will animate the raffle draw, which, as always, includes an array of sumptuous prizes to be won.

To harmonise with the tone of the Société des Bains de Mer's 150th anniversary, the decoration has been designed to emanate sober elegance, using white and gold tones. Red will be prominent, with over 15,000 roses arranged in flower dishes placed on gold topped tables, its tint changing according to the variations of the lighting. Large led video panels will broadcast animations in tune with the various events of the evening.

The evening came to a close with a spectacular firework display.

This year the Monaco Red Cross Gala welcomes the most illustrative artists in the history of Italian pop: Eros Ramazzotti.
