Creating Life's Legacy and Inspiration for Loved Ones!

That was the motivation behind the creation of Artistry In Motion Holographics (AIM Holographics) for Carl Minardo. The love Carl had for his deceased grandfather was lasting, well after he died. This love was so great that he longed to "see" him and for his grandchildren and great grandchildren to be able to "feel" his presence. Because of this, Carl teamed up with Steve Harless to make that dream a reality. The pair invested in 3D technology that they could provide on a commercial platform. As the momentum of AIM continued to grow, Minardo realized other great uses of the 3D technology can be utilized by businesses, non-profit organizations, funeral eulogies, and social gatherings, to name a few. "I take pride in knowing that I am providing a resource that a short time ago was only used in movies or by the rich and famous." AIM also came up with a way to provide various forms of the holographic experience, which was another accomplishment for Minardo and Harless.

Hat Luncheon

The Women's Committee of the Central Park Conservancy's Frederick Law Olmsted Awards, also known as the "hat luncheon." At the 32nd annual luncheon last year—held on May 7th, 2014, as always, at the Conservatory Garden—many hats were adorned with feathers, flowers and butterflies. But there was headgear of all kinds—from fascinators to wide-brimmed sun hats and everything in between. It's the largest fundraiser of the year for the Conservancy, with more than 1,200 guests in attendance this year.

The total amount raised was $3.5 million. J.P. Morgan Chase served as the corporate chair. The Frederick Law Olmsted Award went to former Mayor Michael Bloomberg, who received a standing ovation and cheers as he took to the podium. "Now you're making me feel bad I didn't wear a hat," he joked.

Anne Harrison, Diana Taylor, Michael Bloomberg, Katie-Harrison

"I've always believed, like Olmsted did, that the parks can be a powerful influence for democracy, bringing people of all different backgrounds together," said Mr. Bloomberg. Central Park "belongs to all New Yorkers, but, really, it belongs to the whole world."

The 33rd Annual "Hat Luncheon" will take place on May 6th, 2015 at the Conservatory Garden.

PALM BEACH SYMPHONY AND RUSSIAN PIANIST CLOSE SEASON WITH A “SYMPHONIC (R)EVOLUTION”

Mar-a-Lago Champagne Reception Preludes a Grand Finale

Patrons favored champagne over vodka at the pool-side cocktail reception preceding the Palm Beach Symphony’s Russian close to the season at Mar-a-Lago. Uzbekistan born virtuoso pianist, Lola Astanova, returned as a special guest artist and joined the Symphony for a grandiose finale titled “Symphonic (R)evolution.”

A Russian essence invaded the estate’s palatial ballroom for the final concert of the season with compositions of Shostakovich and Rachmaninoff. Under the masterful direction of Maestro Ramón Tebar, the Orchestra ardently opened the evening’s performance playing Shostakovich’s Festive Overture, which depicts the Russian Revolution, only to be evolved by the ultra-Romanticism of Rachmaninov’s Rhapsody on a Theme by Paganini, performed on piano by Astanova. Finally, the Orchestra brought it back to the Revolution for a fiery conclusion with Shostakovich’s Symphony No. 12.

Lola Astanova and Ramon Tebar

“The Palm Beach Symphony is thrilled to once again collaborate with the very talented Lola Astanova and close our season at Mar-a-Lago.” noted David McClymont, Executive Director of the Palm Beach Symphony. “We are encouraged by the tremendous season we have had and could not have done it without the support of so many symphony enthusiasts. Our momentum has us excited for the possibilities of next season and we look forward to bringing more world-class performances like this one to our community.”

The 2015-2016 Season Concert Series will begin on December 7th at Society of the Four Arts, Palm Beach. For more information, please call 561-655-2657 or visit www.PalmBeachSymphony.org.

Paradise Lost, the aptly named anchor shop on the renowned Via Testa, has long been a mandatory stop when visiting Palm Beach's famous Sunset Avenue consignment district.

The shop - well known to the international set (from Tanya Pierce days) for fascinating gifts, objets d'art and home decor - has expanded with two new Palm Beach locations: 227 and 230 Sunrise Avenue.

In addition to Herend, Lalique and Waterford; English, French and German china; and antiques, oils and sculptures, there are now full men's and women's departments featuring designer shoes, clothing and accessories, including bags, fine and costume jewelry, and luggage, most of it from local island homes.

What is so special about Paradise Lost is that there are no shops in Palm Beach where one may find, for instance, that definitive Cartier bracelet or Chanel handbag for her, as well as that au courant Hermes necktie or pair of Ferragamo loafers for him, and - at the same time - purchase a couple of polo mallets, a 17th century French painting or a Sutton-Kerr safari head. The variety makes for an exciting shopping experience.

The Paradise Lost Boutique (227 Sunrise) features top designer fashions and accessories, and consignors get 60% - not the average 50% - on high-end designer items. Across the street, the Paradise Lost Showroom (230 Sunrise) is a real Paradise for decorators - or anyone putting a home together, with antiques, furniture, light fixtures, wall art, housewares and unusual estate items throughout the showroom floor.

One may spend several hours in the Paradise Lost shops and not see quite everything, so one should leave time enough to spend among familiar names: Louboutin, Prada, Dresden, Gucci, Belleek, Versace, Royal Crown Derby, Leiber, Haskell, Zegna, Vuitton, Brioni, Tod's, etc.

The staff at the Paradise Lost shops caters to every need - helping each visitor to leave completely satisfied and utterly delighted at the experience. Free parking at the 230 Sunrise Showroom.

Paradise Lost is open 7 days from 10 to 6 during Season.
Phone: 561-223-2284

Paradise Lost is a consignment emporium which offers men's and women's designer clothing, shoes, handbags and accessories; oil paintings, watercolors, prints and other framed genres; fine glassware; antique furniture, fine china, pottery, sculptures and other objects d' arte; fine and costume jewelry; and rare books, classic films and collectible music.

Paradise Lost specializes in items that are hard-to-find, one-of-a-kind or have (merely) slipped-the-mind. The shops aspire to be that rare combination of interest and value, offering items that range from wacky to wonderful—a delightful blend of fashion boutique, estate and museum. The shops are not to be rushed in and out of, but rather—wandered through—with enough leisure to study and savor and take it all in, knowing that - while you may not have purchased a thing—you will come back again and again, out of sheer curiosity and delight.

Masterpiece Hotels

An exceptional setting

Nestled in the heart of the Côte d'Azur, located 15 km from Nice Cote D'Azur Airport, the Château Saint-Martin & Spa offers a magnificent natural setting, a place where history has blended with and then adapted to a more contemporary lifestyle.

Its 35-acre park with 300 olive-trees century old features a poetic garden designed by landscape artist Jean Mus. The hotel has two clay tennis courts, a petanque ground, a helicopter pad, a Spa signed with La Prairie treatments, a fitness, a heated overflow swimming-pool and many dreams to share. The Château Saint-Martin & Spa offers 52 Junior Suites including 6 private villas and a beautiful Suite, with high-end services and panoramic views on the Mediterranean Sea.

The famous contemporary architect Luc Svetchine was responsible for the final restoration of the building, transformed into a luxury hotel, an historic flagship of the "Relais & Châteaux" since 1970.

The spirit behind the Oetker Collection

In 1891, a young pharmacist from Bielefeld in Germany, Doctor August Oetker, invented baking powder... Its immediate success gave rise to a company which gradually extended its operations abroad and, thanks to many innovations, set a challenge to Europe's agro-food industry.

Four generations later, the small firm of craftsmen had become an influential, worldwide group, diversifying its activities into various sectors, which naturally included agro-food but also wines and spirits, maritime transport and... luxury hotels. The Oetker family took its first step into this field in 1941 with the acquisition of its very first establishment: Brenner's Park Hotel & Spa at Baden-Baden.

Then, in 1964, Maja and Rudolf Oetker fell beneath the "Fitzgeraldian" charm of the Hotel du Cap-Eden-Roc in Antibes. They had to wait five years before they were able to buy it, then transforming it into a legendary hotel...

1978: the hotel Le Bristol in Paris also fell into their hands.

1994: New acquisition, the Château Saint-Martin & Spa in Vence.

2012: Management of the Palais Namaskar in Marrakech

2013: Management of the Fregate Island Private, in Seychelles and the new hotel property in Courchevel L'Apogée Courchevel opened last December 2013.

A historic flagship of the "Relais & Châteaux", the timeless beauty of the Château's interior decor and foundations makes it a unique setting midway between history and imagination...

There is not a single item of wood-panelling, drapes or paintings that does not evoke a fragment of the building's ancestral past: from the splendid Gobelins tapestries to paintings by Bélanger and Hackert, not forgetting a commode by Guignard and many other authenticated gems...

Well-being, elegance, gastronomy, culture... All these attributes have been brought together to unfurl the spirit of this great establishment for the greater enjoyment of a discerning clientele.

Such is the spirit behind the "Oetker Masterpiece Hotels", a guarantee of excellence and total authenticity in luxury hotel properties.

1896 - PALAIS IÉNA: A STEP BACK IN TIME

Originally built in 1896 as the home of French imperial Prince Roland Bonaparte, the most historic areas of the former Palais Iéna were listed in 2009 with French institution Monuments Historiques, an initiative undertaken by the Shangri-La group. Today, the iconic building once again welcomes Parisians and world travellers within its walls, 114 years after the prince first opened the doors of his residential palace to Parisian society.

The palace's façade is inspired by the Louis XIV style, with intricate masonry of stone from L'Oise. Sculptors Steiner and Hougouade, who also rose to fame for their craftsmanship on the Louvre and the Tuileries Palaces, were commissioned to carve the façade's "eclectic style," featuring the family coat of arms (lion heads and antlers).

The Shangri-La group is honoured to have been entrusted with the preservation and unveiling of this significant part of French heritage.

MORE THAN 660 PAW-TEED AT THE 13TH ANNUAL
Doggie Ball Fundraiser
TO BENEFIT THE TRI-COUNTY ANIMAL RESCUE

Co- Founder and Executive Director Suzi Goldsmith with Ari Rifkin

Drawing the largest crowd of pet lovers and advocates yet in its 13-year history, this year's Annual Doggie Ball 'fund' and 'fan' raiser for Tri-County Animal Rescue (TCAR) was filled with pups, fabulous décor, celebrity lookalikes, non-stop live music, more than 600 silent auction items and plenty of social corralling. Held at Boca West Country Club and chaired by Sharon DiPietro, the event served up two parties-in-one to save the lives of thousands of abandoned, abused or neglected dogs and cats rescued by TCAR, the area's largest true 100% no-kill regional non-profit animal rescue organization.

Herme de Wyman Miro, Arlette Gordon, and Dr. Elizabeth Bowden

State Attorney David Aronberg

Donned in this year's patriotic themed colors of red, white and blue along with their finest cowboy boots and hats, more than 660 enjoyed the Bone-Nanza pre-party followed by the western-themed dinner and Doggie Ball festivities that included dancing to the Jerry Wayne Private Party Band and special guest appearance by female vocalist Kendra Erika, and a live auction. Highlights of the evening included a debut of a new TCAR mission video featuring those on the frontline everyday for rescue, recovery and adoption at TCAR, and the presentation of the coveted Jeannette Christos Award to Marta Batmasian for her compassionate longtime dedication to TCAR and animal advocacy. Following the presentation, Batmasian announced a family 'matching' gift of $100,000 to support TCAR's Capital Campaign for the construction of a new on-site rescue and adoption facility.

Lou and Debbie Porreco with their son Jason

The Bone-Nanza, staged throughout the club environs, flowed with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, an expanded silent auction with a first-time-ever Doggie-Cat Couture section that included a pen of rescue pups, a line-up of custom-designed pet beds and the latest fashionable pet lifestyle products and services. The Speechless Band provided the live entertainment as event-goers made donations to win at the the Famous Bone Wall and participated in the new 'Reigning Cats and Dogs' raffle sponsored by Gregory's Fine Jewelry gave paw-tyers a chance-to-win an original, one-of-a-kind necklace from Gregory's Fine Jewelry created solely for the 13th Doggie Ball.

Herb Roemelle with Joann Woodruff

Doggie Ball Honorary Chairs Debra and Jerry Kramer, Betsy Green and Tom Sawicz, Frank and Marie Occhigrossi, Herme de Wyman Miro, Andrea Kline, Lois Pope and Ari Rifkin were joined by Ambassadors Jay DiPietro and Jerry Kramer. This year's 'adorable and adoring' 2015 'Rescue Set' included Grand Marshal: Pomeranian Nili Rifkin joined by fellow marshals Yorkie Cindy Kramer, and Kitty Boys Blue Pope and Havanese Charlie Kline. Bob Mooney with Sheriff of PBC Ric Bradshaw

Doggie Ball Chair Sharon DiPietro and TCAR Co-Founder & Executive Director Suzi Goldsmith reported that proceeds from the annual Doggie Ball, TCAR's largest annual fundraiser, enables TCAR to continue its life-saving work, including large scale puppy mill and other rescue missions; restoring wholeness on a daily basis to animals in need; providing a safe home; comfort; nutritious food; lots of tender loving care and veterinary treatment until they can be adopted. TCAR operates solely on 100% donations – no city, regional or national government funding -- to fulfill its creed: Rescue is our Mission. Rehabilitation is our Pledge. Rehome is our Purpose.

Located at 21287 Boca Rio Road, Boca Raton, Florida 33433, TCAR is open for adoptions five-days-a-week: Tuesday and Thursday through Sunday from 10:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. For more information, call Amanda Chussler at 561-482-8110 or email Amanda@tricontyuanimalrescue.com.
