Dear Readers!

We had a very busy social season reveling balls, galas and important charitable events from New York, Miami, Europe and our native town Palm Beach.

We present our cover as a modern new look, Rex Fabrics as a supporter of Palm Beach Today International magazine as one-stop shop for home décor and the rarest and the most expensive fabrics from the world's most famous designers.

We are pleased to unveil our newly revamped website: www.palmbeachtodayinternational.net, which is designed to be more user friendly and makes Palm Beach Today International accessible to a wider audience. I feel compelled to address the very unfortunate news of the loss of society photographer and a friend Lucien Capehart, page 15.

As you all know I was Co-Publisher of Palm Beach Today for many years and I am now proud to announce that I am the Sole Publisher of Palm Beach Today International magazine. It has been a pleasure to be involved with so many wonderful people amongst whom are some very important high-end wordly philanthropists. I look forward with humility to be priviledge of continued working relationship.

We are planning for summer time (May- June) to continue our work as a Palm Beach Today International glossy newspaper.

We wish you a very healthy and nice summer.

I sincerely appreciate your support in our success for the future.

Best wishes

Maya St. Johnson

FOOD FOR THE POOR

Philanthropists Unite to Celebrate One of Palm Beach's Finest Treasures, ROBERT G. GORDON

Palm Beach philanthropists Arlette Gordon (Honorary Chairwoman) and Elizabeth Bowden (Honorary Chairwoman) joined Paul Marino (Event Chairman) on stage at Food For The Poor's ninth-annual Fine Wines & Hidden Treasures gala Sunday night to honor Arlette's late husband, Robert G. Gordon, one of Palm Beach's finest treasures. Proceeds from the Jan. 29 gala at The Breakers Palm Beach will build a critically needed school for over 100 disadvantaged children in and around Gordon's Cove in Bluefields, Jamaica.

"Tonight honors my darling husband," said Arlette. "One of Bob's greatest pleasures was his involvement as Chairperson for the past several Food For The Poor Palm Beach Galas. During his lifetime, funds were raised to build Gordon's Cove, a sustainable fishing village and community."

Food For The Poor's gala began with a superb wine tasting reception with selected wines to enhance the five-course menu compliments of Republic National Distributing Company and Dreyfus, Ashby & Co. Throughout the reception, unique wine selections, jewelry and exotic escapes to Hong Kong and Montego Bay, Jamaica, were among the various silent and live auction prizes.

"Over the years, many families in Jamaica have benefited from life-transforming gifts through the generosity of the Palm Beach community," said Marino. "They have lifesaving food, housing, and the ability to earn an income through Gordon's Fishing Village, and now, an opportunity to provide their children with an education. Thank you for transforming the lives of the suffering into lives filled with hope for the future."

As a tribute to Robert's epicurean reputation, known throughout Palm Beach, the menu he personally selected last year was given rebirth at this year's event. Early in the evening, Marino and the men stood to toast Robert's legacy, as he was recognized as one of the area's most generous philanthropists and past Bailli-Confrérie de las Chaines des Rôtisseurs for 25 years.

"Tonight we will enjoy some of the things Robert truly loved: wonderful food, great wine and the company of good friends and family," said Bowden, Honorary Chairwoman and Silver Benefactor. "Food For The Poor held a special place in his heart and through their efforts and the support of many of the guests here tonight, hundreds of the poor in Jamaica have a promising future."

Bowden, a dear family friend who previously traveled to Hong Kong with the couple, alluded to the fact that even if there is no smoking in heaven, Robert would find a corner to smoke his cigars.

Arlette thanked Patrick Park for graciously committing to be the charity's International Honorary Benefactor. Park pledged to double his monetary support this year to help fund the school. Arlette then mentioned Grand, Silver and Bronze Benefactors by name, thanking them individually for supporting Food For The Poor's mission.

The Grand Benefactor was Florence DeGeorge. Bronze Benefactors included Helen Bernstein, Helen Bernstein-Fealy, Paula and Robert Butler, Henry and Mary Virginia Fong, The Frankino Foundation, Stanley and Helene Karp, Howard and Michele Kessler, Charlotte Kimelman, Hermé de Wyman Miro, The International Society of Palm Beach, Lois Pope, and Ari Rifkin.

"Food For The Poor was Bob's favorite cause," said Harold Stayman. "He had such respect for its management and Arlette has continued his generosity. Tonight when you take a few sips of your favorite wine, think of Bob."

During the live auction, the crowd rallied in support of Food For The Poor's mission. One of the live auction prizes included a PGA Championship seven-day pass to Kiawah Island Golf Resort in S.C. with airfare for two.

"Let's honor Robert's legacy and let him be immortal in Jamaica," said Angel Aloma, Food For The Poor's Executive Director. Aloma explained how, with the basic human needs fulfilled in Gordon's Cove, it is now appropriate that the focus be on education.

Gala sponsors included American Nicaraguan Foundation, Dreyfus, Ashby & Co., Russ Reid Company, Republic National Distributing Company, and TerraGroup.

For additional information regarding the Fine Wines & Hidden Treasures event, please call 1-888-404-4248 or visit www.foodforthe poor.org/palmbeach.

Rose Glamoclija understands as well as anyone the importance of dealing with health professionals who are focused on meeting the specific needs of the client.

This is her goal at Boca Nursing Services, which she launched 18 years ago after spending time as a registered nurse who worked with private patients. "Continuity is very important to our clients," Glamoclija says. "It's comforting to know that someone who understands what you need and want is always available to help."

To help ensure continuity of care and provide peace of mind for her patients and their families, Glamoclija developed a team approach designed to provide each client with a team of caregivers.

"When I first meet with a patient, I immediately have an idea of which caregivers will make the best team," she says. "We've discovered that there is a high degree of patient satisfaction that results from matching the right team to the patient."

At Boca Nursing Services, it's not unusual for a team of caregivers to stay with a patient for many years. "Whether they're at home or in the hospital, our clients are able to live more enjoyable lives thanks to the team approach," Glamoclija says.
