We would like to take this opportunity to briefly introduce you to Dr. Rapaille, President and CEO of Archetype Discoveries Worldwide.

Dr. G. Clotaire Rapaille is an internationally known expert in Cultural Archetype Discoveries, Creativity and Innovation. His unique approach to marketing combines a psychoanalyst's depth of analysis with a businessman's attention to practical concerns. He has written more than fourteen books. His last book the Culture Code, first published in 2006 was No 9 in the best-seller list of Business Week, has been translated in over twelve languages and sold over 200,000 copies in Korea.

Among his other books, La Communication Creatice published in 1976 revolutionized the world of marketing at a time when Dr. Rapaille was referred to in France as the Pope of Creativity.

The 7 Secrets of Marketing was published in 2004 and Je t'aime, Je ne t'aime pas, co-written with Michelle Barzach (the Minister of Health during Jacques Chirac's time in office) was published in 1974.

Dr. Rapaille's work for the past 20 years led him to develop a new process for understanding how we are imprinted for the first time by what he calls the Logic of Emotion, which is the code of each Cultural Archetype in the collective unconscious of a given culture.

Dr. Rapaille has travelled the world, served a term in the diplomatic corps and has completed extensive marketing research on product and brand archetypes for international corporations. He is fluent in English, French and Spanish.

He has taught at numerous universities and graduate schools including The Sorbonne University, Paris, France, St. Ignace, Antwerp, Belgium, Esade, Barcelona Spain and HEC/ISA (Business School), Paris et Jouy en Josas, France.

Dr. Rapaille enjoys playing tennis, swimming and sailing and he discovered his passion for polo at 25 years old when he was a diplomat in Central America. He fell in love with Palm Beach when he came to Wellington to play many years ago.

He currently resides in Palm Beach with his wife, Missy de Bellis, who is the Vice-President of Archetype Discoveries Worldwide.
