It's Not Too Early to Note These End of the Year Tax Tips

Caroline Harless, Harless & Associates

As the year comes to a close, your thoughts more likely turn to holiday celebrations than tax preparation. However, preparing for April 15th should begin now so that the process can go as quickly and smoothly as possible.

Here are a few tips to make reporting easier and lower your tax liability as much as possible:

- Hold onto the records that support items reported on your tax return and prove income and expenses for at least three years.
- If you own a home or investment property, keep records for expenses including home improvements for at least three years after you have sold or disposed of the property.
- You can defer some of your income until the next tax year and at the same time accelerate upcoming deductions into the current year. If you've had a high earning year, this can balance things out.
- Avoid a shortfall by increasing your withholding now. This can help you get caught up before the end-of-year tax tally.
- Decrease your income tax liability by making the maximum contribution to your 401(k) or IRA. This year, that is $17,500 for 401(k) and $5,500 for IRA.
- Consider converting your traditional IRA to a Roth IRA, which means you can pay tax now on the conversion, but no taxes in the future.
- It's the holiday season, so why not give a gift. Gifts of up to $14,000 are tax free, and that number goes up when two spouses are involved.

Everglades Foundation Hosts
11th Annual Foreverglades Benefit and Raises Over $2.7 Million for Everglades Restoration

The Evening Featured The Announcement of the George Barley Water Prize, The Largest Science Prize Competition For Clean Water in History While Honoring Award Winning Television Journalist and Conservationist Tom Brokaw, Laughing with Actor/Comedian Jim Gaffigan and Enjoying a Musical Performance by Multi-Platinum Selling Grammy Winner Alan Jackson

“It’s Five O’clock Somewhere”... That was the theme for the 11th Annual ForEverglades Benefit, which took place on Saturday, February 13 at The Breakers Palm Beach. The sold out event featured award-winning television journalist, author and Special Correspondent for NBC News, honoree Tom Brokaw; Grammy-nominated actor/comedian Jim Gaffigan; and country superstar Alan Jackson, along with his band, performing mega hits to a crowd of over 800 Everglades Foundation supporters.

Board Chair, Marshall Field took to the stage and invited the crowd to view a videotaped tribute to Tom Brokaw from several of his close friends, colleagues, and fly fishing partners including: Harrison Ford, Jimmy Buffett, Katie Couric, Eli Manning Warren Buffett, Pat Riley and Michael Keaton who praised him in a fun-filled tribute for his advocacy towards conservation and the environment.

After dinner, actor, writer and comedian Jim Gaffigan entertained the crowd with his commentaries surrounding food, fatherhood and Florida living. He had the crowd in stitches with his commentary and the fact that this was the only crowd he had ever witnessed eating fruit out of a boot as The Breakers created gold dusted chocolate boots alongside warm apple cobbler for dessert.

The room took a more serious tone when Paul Tudor Jones announced the Everglades Foundation’s commitment to tackling the global phosphorus pollution problem through its $10 million George Barley Water Prize. Named after Foundation co-founder and close friend of Jones, the George Barley Water Prize is the largest science prize competition for clean water in history. The audience was captivated while learning about this initiative and a call-to-action was announced with the help of Quinn Hiaasen leading the charge on how to bid on an iPhone. Over $350,000 was raised in just minutes.

jardin de Lady Onslow

The dog cemetery was created in 1900 when Lord and Lady Onslow, loyal guests of Hotel du Cap-Eden-Roc, lost their little dog. The owner of the hotel at the time, knowing that Lady Onslow was very attached to her pet, suggested to her that she bury him next to the Hotel's rose garden. To date, this place is affectionately known as "jardin de Lady Onslow" (Lady Onslow Garden) by former hotel employees.

Contemporaries Moulin Rouge Gala to Benefit Four Arts

The Four Arts' Contemporaries held another sold-out gala on Saturday, February 20 in The Four Arts Hultar Sculpture Gardens. The stunning Moulin Rouge-themed evening, chaired by longtime supporter Binkie Orthwein, attracted more than 500 of The Society of the Four Arts' young supporters and raised important funds for the ongoing mission of the Four Arts.

As guests arrived, a dancer performed in a nine-foot tall red stiletto, as waiters in white tails offered the evening's signature cocktail, the Grey Goose LeFizz. Dinner was held in a luxuriously decorated tent draped in ruby red Paris-inspired fabrics with whimsical décor and featured an over the top cabaret and tango performance that left guests buzzing with excitement.

Following cocktail hour and dinner, dance band "Rock With U" performed, drawing hundreds out on the dance floor. Guests left the evening with stylish canvas totes donated by Capital Art Vault Photos and Buko, LLC which were filled with Godiva Chocolates, gourmet tea from Tracey Stern Tea and Company, jewelry from Sequin Palm Beach, a personal copy of The Scout Guide, hair care products from John Barrett Salon, a custom keychain from Douglas Elliman, gift certificates from Strong Boalt, macaroons from Emko, recipe cards from Grey Goose and a water bottle from Ivory Ella.

In attendance were Heather Henry, Talbott Maxey, Erik Waldin and Casey Cooke Peter Geisler, Mary Brittain and Kendall Cheatham, Piper Quinn and Sara Groff, Jason and Josephine Kalisman and many other supporters.
